

#7 Goldfish Song

Sept 12, 2016

By Lisa B. Corfman and Pete Fein

Chorus:

Scrub, scrub, scrub
Paper bubbles in the tub. (x2)

Paper chosen at random,
For a folded surprise.
Didn't know it was a goldfish,
'til green origami swam by.

Chorus

Fish folded in copper,
They had quite a sheen.
School friends swam in a bathtub,
Fish felt he was part of the team!

Chorus

He looked in the mirror,
And he saw he was green,
His reflection surprised him,
The result was a screeeeeam!

Chorus

He said - Is it seaweed?
Is moss growing on me?
He shrugged his fins and said -
I guess I'm just green!

Chorus

He put down the scrub-brush.
Paper bubbles everywhere.
Transformed the mucky tub,
Into art for a high-end club!

Chorus

You see, the unique is magical,
Skill n' work go hand in hand.
And that's the story of,
Origami Goldfish Sam!
