

The Not forgotten

Lisa and her company have retailed at many different boutiques since 2006. These are some that she fondly remembers.

Israeli Book Shop Brookline, MA (December 2017). Stocking 6 different colored origami dreidel earrings, this will bring out some Jewish spirit!

Handworks Gallery of American Crafts: Acton, MA (2016-2017).

Magic Fingers: Worcester, MA (2016-2018).

Charles River Museum of Industry and Innovation: Waltham, MA (2015-2017). In the gift shop is a display of our earrings galore!

Concord Firefly: West Concord, MA (2014-2017).

The New York Art Connection: Holbrook, NY (2014-2015). In a multi-cultural gallery directed by Khurshid Alam Saleem, Rocky Arts Unfolded's owner presented a beautiful Solo Origami Portrayals exhibition in April 2014. Since then our organization has ongoing opportunities there.

Gourmet Pottery: Waltham, MA (2015). The place to find unusually wonderful gifts.

Specialty Lotions & Potions: Bay Shore, NY (2011-2015). Thank you!

The Sparrow Store: Orleans, MA (2014-2015). A nifty, tourist destination shop in the cool vacation spot of beautiful Cape Cod.

Artinian Jewelry: Concord, MA (2011-2014). With many pairs of origami crane healing earrings bought wholesale, find out if there are any left for you! Turns out, they all sold!

Art & Soul: Maynard, MA (2008-2014). A quaint boutique, this store serves the local community with handcrafted goods. We are thankful to store owner Kerry Hachey for our 7 year relationship as a vendor partner.

Stars Above: Sayville, NY (2013). The late Stacey O'Connell happily sold our origami crane healing earrings and bought a lovely framed candle Giclée for her boutique. O'Connell and her store will be fondly remembered.

Silver Broom Ministries: Sayville, NY (2012-2014).

B'nai Israel: Oakdale, NY (2012-2014). A friendly congregation, lead by the scholarly Rabbi Moss, B'nai Israel has a lovely gift shop where origami crane healing earrings and two cranes of remembrance sold. We miss you!

Curiosity: Sayville, NY (2011-2012). A nice vintage shop run by a kind fellow welcomed the founder to the quaint Sayville community, and gladly stocked some beautiful Rocky Arts Unfolded products. Later, by recommendation, inventory was moved into Silver Broom Ministries.

ReSale, Inc: Concord, MA (2011). A wonderful shop, we were acquainted before their grand opening and one pair of earring did sell, but mutually we decided it was not quite the right fit. We wish ReSale Inc well!

Cambridge Wear: Acton, MA (2010-2011). A high-end clothing store, we consigned earrings to complement their clothing for a time and with a success we thank them for that test relationship.

Limited Editions: Newton Highlands, MA (2010).

Chelsea's Cottage and Crafter's Outlet: Plymouth, MA (2009).

The Muses Window: Concord, MA (2008).

A Brighter Way Gallery: Brookline, MA (2007). Plucked from the average crowd, the founder was chosen to be a featured artist. She saw many happy customers at Cristina Powell's gallery. Lisa proudly sold origami portrayal items from large Giclées, post cards, earrings and crane ornaments, to traditional origami models. Cristina is a genuine individual and will always be a friend!

Gateway Arts Store: Brookline, MA (2006). In Spring 2006, the founder went through the Gateway Arts program, and for the first time was enabled to stock artistic creations in a storefront. This led Rocky Arts Unfolded to where it is today!
